

Figure 3. Biomechanical testing setup with strain gauges attached to the posterior distal femur at locations of greatest stress concentration as determined by photostress analysis.